Research led to the submission of over fifteen articles.

The department celebrated two major additions; the birth of Alex Stephenson and the purchase of a new GC/Mass Spectrometer to add to our collection of instrumentation. The department is particularly pleased that one of our seniors, Janice Hudgings, was named a Rhodes scholar.

By the time it came to the edge of the Forest the stream had grown up, so that it was almost a river, and, being grown-up, it did not run and jump and sparkle along as it used to do when it was younger, but moved more slowly. For it knew now where it was going, and it said to itself, "There is no hurry. We shall get there some day." But all the little streams higher up in the Forest went this way and that, quickly, eagerly, having so much to find out before it was too late.

SKIPPING STONES

Do you remember times
Between Beyond
Silent like the mud beneath the waves
One so like another
Form the whole we call our life
Stone which sits upon the bank
Speckled texture
The kind to hold
To wonder
What lies beneath its weathered pores
In that stone, another stone?
Somewhere in the circle of two
Truth reclines
And love
Our echoes ring through
Times long past
And times to come
Easy laugh
Overflowing pebbles
Roll between our toes
Like fiery garnets
A Winter's tale
Warm
Like pink carnations
And
Baby's Breath

One snowy afternoon
Long ago
We dreamed a field full
Of unicorns
And prancing swans
Beneath one tree
One wolf
A silver coat that took us in Embraced with outstretched arms
And held us close
Mother
My mother
What words are there
What verse
To bring to light these things I hold inside
One look
We know
Gold from gold
From gold
A horse ablaze
Thunders high above
We round the round
We breathe the shore
Skip the surface
Ning a Ning
Sing of Apple Greys
And
Hand in hand
Are home.

CONGRATULATIONS, WILLANN

A Loving Cup for Heather Burack

“So to return to our walk by the ocean, by the sound, if all that poetry has dreamed,
all that insanity has raved,
all that madden
narcotics have driven
through the brains of men,
or smothered passions nursed in the fancies of women,
if the dreams of colleges, friends and boarding schools,
if every human feeling that sighs, or smiles,
or curses, or shrieks, or groans,
should bring all their innumerable images,
such as come with every heartbeat,
The epic which held them all,
though its letters filled the zodiac,
would be but a cupful from the infinite ocean
of similitudes and analogies that rolls through the universe”

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES

[Heather honors herself by the way she receives this. She does not swallow it all at once, neither does she reject it; but she takes it as a pickerel takes the bait, carries it off to deal with it in the latter half of her life, at her leisure.]

CONGRATULATIONS, JEFF!

Oh, what a four years have expired!
Your efforts unflagging, untired.
Surpassing all zealots
While launching your pellets,
Your mark will, for years, be admired.

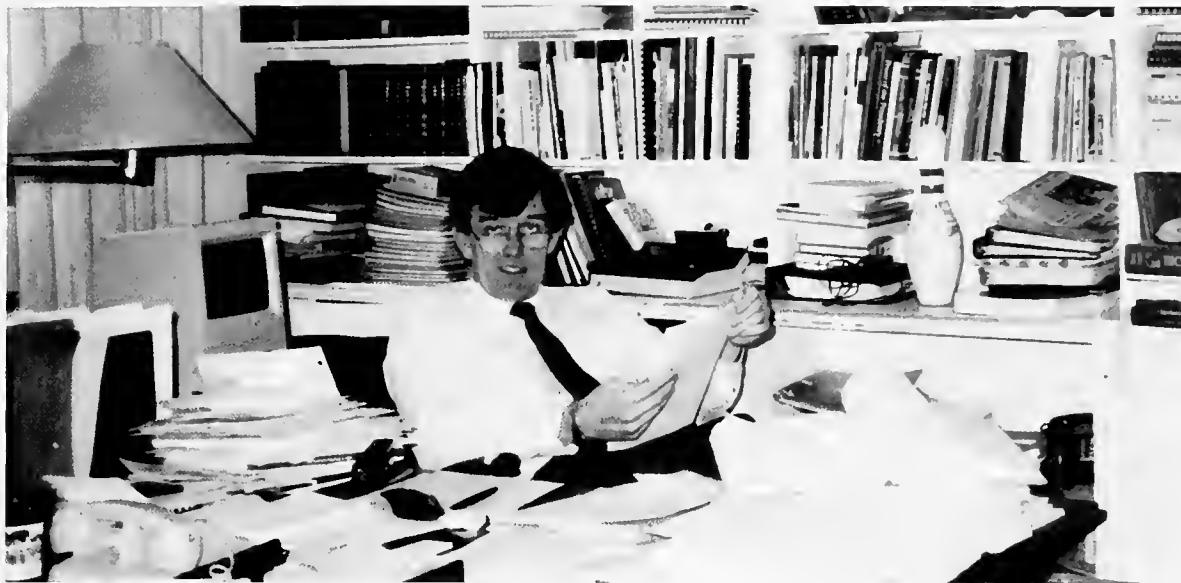

Your comrades provided a haven.
There's Pikes, Sammy, Schleppy and Keyvan;
And wave a red towlie
For Miss Megan Crowley;
A group that is not for the craven.

Your mound poise has great underpinnings.
In and out, up and down, make for winnings.
Through Ernie's exposure,
You held your composure,
While screaming with Barks between innings.

Your light pales the gleam of a flambeau;
Your rapier wit gives you ammo
To seize every day
In your wry, special way.
Congrats to you now, Captain Whammo.

Love,

Mom & Dad
